Profile

Frederick Finiguerra is a solicitor admitted in England & Wales (since 2009), Ireland (since 2011) and NSW (since 2018). Throughout his career, Frederick has specialised in intellectual property and commercial law dealing with both contentious and non-contentious matters particularly for clients in the creative, media and technology sectors. Frederick also has specific experience of dealing with intellectual property issues arising from bankruptcy and insolvency.

Frederick joined the firm in 2014 after training and qualifying with a boutique intellectual property law firm in London and working with a Top 5 firm in Ireland where he specialised in intellectual property and commercial litigation.

During his time at BHF Frederick also spent 9 months on secondment with a television streaming service where he assisted with all aspects of content acquisition and clearance, consumer and competition law advice and drafting and negotiating technology contracts.
