Profile

Jeanette joined Banki Haddock Fiora in 2007, having practised in a top-tier firm and then working for a decade advising multi-national fast moving consumer goods companies in-house. She advises on a wide range of legal issues in the commercial context and is known for her practical and strategic approach to commercial drafting, negotiation and dispute management. Her roles in-house give her hands-on expertise in consumer protection, marketing and product regulation. Jeanette also has an established employment law practice and advises on all aspects of the employment cycle.
